PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Consumers today deal in an increasing global marketplace. Our marketplace, without a doubt is one of the choicest in the world.

Consumer information and education enable consumers to help themselves both in purchasing decisions and in effectively seeking restitution when problems do occur.

Ours is a free marketplace where both buyer and seller profit when buyer's needs are satisfied.

One very effective way business and industry have tried to increase their satisfaction is by improving consumer complaint-handling programs and communication channels.

We at the Better Business Bureau of South Central Ontario do just that. We collect and disperse information to consumers to help them make sound purchasing decisions. We maintain thousands of files on businesses and have access to information in other areas throughout 190 Better Business Bureau offices in Canada and the U.S.A..

This Membership Directory and Consumer Resource Book is produced with you in mind. It is designed to assist both seller and buyer in the marketplace and is not intended to recommend or deprecate but to provide information and education for all those who use it.

The more you use us — the less you need us.

R.F. (Bob) IRVINE
President & C.E.O.
Better Business Bureau
of South Central Ontario.

HOW TO USE THE MEMBERSHIP ROSTER

This Roster lists firms that have met Better Business Bureau standards.

Firms are listed alphabetically by category.

WHAT THE BETTER BUSINESS BUREAU CAN DO FOR YOU

Have you ever wondered exactly what the Better Business Bureau does for consumers?

You probably know that it's an organization of businesses designed to encourage ethical business practices.

For more information on these and other firms, call the Bureau's Inquiry Department at 526-1111.

The Better Business Bureau does not endorse products or services; neither does it suggest that these firms are the only ones in the area able to meet its standards.

---

But what does that have to do with consumers?

Plenty. In fact, one of the Bureau's primary functions is to assist consumers by providing them with information and help in resolving certain kinds of business/consumer problems.

INFORMATION SERVICES

The Bureau's files contain information on over 40,000 companies and soliciting organizations in Hamilton-Wentworth, Burlington, the Niagara Region & Brantford.

Besides the annual Roster, we publish a variety of brochures dealing with areas such as life insurance and paving. Single copies are free to the public.

COMPLAINT SERVICES

Though many business/consumer problems can be avoided if consumers have enough information to make wise buying decisions, our complaint services are designed to help in cases where a dispute has arisen and the two parties can't settle it themselves.

So, if you've got a problem with something you've brought and you're not having any luck in getting it resolved, call us.

If your complaint sounds like the kind of thing we can handle, we'll ask you to put it in writing. Then we'll forward it to the company for its reply. And we'll make the company's way of dealing with the complaint part of our records.

About 80% of the complaints we send to businesses are adjusted. When the dispute cannot be resolved by mediation, the Better Business Bureau may offer arbitration.

Can an organization funded by business really be fair to consumers? Yes, without doubt. However, we don't believe that the consumer is always right — or the business. But we are in favour of an ethical marketplace where both sides get their due. We work with that in mind.

Since we are often very busy, call us again if you can't get us the first time.

WHAT WE DON'T DO

The Better Business Bureau

- does not give credit reports (to make arrangements to see your own credit rating, call your local Credit Bureau).
- does not provide product information (try the Consumer's Association of Canada).
- does not give legal advice (call Law Students Legal Advice Program or Lawyer Referral Service).
- does not handle employer-employee problems (for questions pertaining to unpaid wages, overtime, vacation pay and other wage-related problems call the Labour Standards Branch, Ministry of Labour).

STATEMENT OF PURPOSE

The Better Business Bureau is an organization of concerned businesses whose common aim is the growth and development of the business community within the area with due regard for social responsibility.

Members of the Better Business Bureau are in business to make a profit but are committed to do so in a manner that is beneficial to the communities in which they operate.

Recognition of the need for social responsibility is manifested through adherence to a Code of Ethics. All members of the Better Business Bureau support the following principles and have agreed to abide by them in the hope that public recognition of their example will be mutually beneficial:

- All Better Business Bureau members are committed to honesty in dealing with their customers.
- All Better Business Bureau members are committed to truth in the offering of goods and services.
- All Better Business Bureau members are committed to fairness in all of their business dealings.

The Better Business Bureau promotes its basic aim in the following ways:

DEVELOPMENT

- BBB identifies its members.
- BBB maintains for its members a continuing educational program covering many aspects of efficient and ethical business practices.
- BBB promotes specific interests of representative sections of the membership.
- BBB communicates and cooperates with government and private organizations with similar objectives and principles in order to foster its basic goal.

CONTROL

- BBB attempts to identify those business enterprises which do not meet its ethical standards and communicates this to the consuming public, including its members.
- BBB maintains the standards of its membership through appropriate self-regulation; offending members are identified and may be subject to suspension or expulsion.
- BBB thereby protects its members and the consuming public from unfair business practices.

CODE OF ETHICS

1. To serve the public with honest values.
2. To be truthful regarding goods and services offered.
3. To honor guarantees offered.
4. To strive to ensure that the normal use of merchandise or services offered will not be hazardous to public health.
5. To advertise and sell merchandise or services on their merit.
6. To avoid all devices and schemes which prey upon human ignorance and gullibility.
7. To refrain from the use of unethical business practices.
8. To be sympathetic with the complaints and criticisms of the buying public.
9. To maintain a healthy business environment by reinforcing mutual respect and openness between customer and merchant.
10. To encourage communication and cooperation among Better Business Bureau members.

Save plastic liquid detergent bottles. Without rinsing it out, fill one with water and keep it in the glove compartment of your car along with a roll of paper towels. When the children have sticky hands, or if something is spilled in the car, you will be prepared.

Got a Problem? Need Help?

Sometimes a festering grievance is based on no more than a lack of understanding or an ability on the part of a complainant to reach a symphathetic ear. We believe Inquiry Line, headed by veteran reporter Al MacRury, will help individuals who become baffled or frustrated in trying to solve their problems.

Find out more about Inquiry line by reading this special Spectator feature every Wednesday in The Spectator.

CRITERIA FOR ACCEPTANCE OF MEMBERSHIP

To be a member of the Better Business Bureau of the area an applicant firm must meet the following standards.

1. Have a record of prompt attention to and satisfactory treatment of customer complaints relative to selling, servicing and advertising which have been referred to it by this Bureau.
2. Supply additional information concerning its principals and employees when it is deemed necessary for the Bureau's records.
3. Sign the Better Business Bureau membership application, comply with its terms, and commit itself to adhere to the Bureau's Code of Ethics.

TWELVE WAYS A BBB MEMBERSHIP HELPS BUILD A BETTER BUSINESS

1. MEMBERSHIP ROSTER & CONSUMER RESOURCE BOOK

We advertise your BBB membership in our Membership Roster.

The Membership Roster lists all of this Bureau's members, categorized by trade category. The Roster also includes articles on consumer rights and responsibilities.

100,000 copies are distributed free of charge to members and the general public. Every BBB member is entitled to one listing under an appropriate product or service category at no charge other than the annual dues.

The Roster will be of great value to the consuming public. It will be the only roster in which the consumer can have complete confidence, with the knowledge that all of the companies listed have met the standards set by the Better Business Bureau.

It will also assist you, as a member, to reach a wide audience of potential clients and customers.

Only members of the BBB will have the opportunity to purchase advertising space.

2. HOT LINE SERVICE

We give you a direct line to instant service.

Here's our hottest service — and it's producing valuable results for business.

It's a special telephone "Hot Line" that bypasses our busy lines and connects BBB members instantly with our member service specialists. In one fast, direct call you get immediate action on your inquiry or complaint.

Hot Line Service puts you as close to us as your phone. It's your rapid line to the full range of BBB services for business members. And it's available to you instantly . . . every day. With BBB Hot Line Service you can count on help fast whenever you need us. And as often as you need us.

3. COMPLAINT HANDLING

We listen to consumers . . . and help you by helping them.

BBB membership helps you save customers. Because when complaints come in to us, including those lodged against members, we work to get them resolved.

Your BBB office handles thousands of consumer contacts a year — most of which are inquiries about the reliability of business firms. But many of the calls are to register complaints about purchases or business dealings. These usually are accepted in writing. We promptly refer these complaints directly to the firms — to hear their side of the story.

In most cases, disputes are settled satisfactorily through this procedure. As a BBB member, you can depend on us to help you mediate problems when they come up — and help you save customers.

4. ARBITRATION SERVICE

We give you a sensible way to settle customer disputes.

Even the most reputable businesses may face hard-to-resolve customer disputes from time to time. When the problem arises, here's a BBB service that can save you time and money — and help protect your valuable business reputation.

Our Customer Arbitration Service enlists the assistance of a third party as a simple and economical way to resolve customer complaints informally and privately.

This service is free and is offered on a voluntary basis to both parties. The process is fair and it's fast. It saves court costs and is legal and binding.

All the benefits of this service are yours without cost as a member of the Better Business Bureau. Try it once and you'll find out quickly what a great benefit this service can be for your business.

5. ANTI-FRAUD WARNINGS

We save you from being ripped off.

Schemes and rackets aimed at bilking businesses — large and small — are on the upswing. These victimizers are as busy in the area served by your BBB as anywhere else.

As a BBB member, you'll receive alerts on these schemes, especially as new ones move into the area. You'll also receive regular bulletins describing what practices to look out for — schemes running the gamut from "advance fee" loan services to bogus office supply "bargains" to executive "discount" merchandise clubs.

We have identified many of the most common swindles that prey on you, the businessman, and keep you fully updated through our BBB Bulletins. A timely Hot Line call to us before you sign up with that unknown firm or person may save you from a costly and avoidable mistake.

6. ADVERTISING GUIDANCE

We take action against misleading advertising.

Misleading advertising is harmful to the consumer, but it also hurts business. As a BBB member you benefit from our campaign to monitor and review advertising which may be untrue, misleading or fraudulent. When action is warranted we take immediate steps to halt or bring about corrective changes in the questionable ads.

As a service to members, your BBB has compiled a checklist of sound advertising standards. Copies are available on request.

7. CHARITABLE SOLICITATIONS

We help you screen out bogus charities.

Nothing stings more than the discovery that your generous gift has wound up in the hands of a charity gyp disguised as a worthy cause.

When you are in doubt which charities and agencies deserve your financial support, your BBB can provide helpful guidance.

Unfortunately, there are some that spend too many of your dollars for fund raising or for ineffective or wasteful services. Then there is the phony charity which exists solely for the purpose of its sponsors.

All of these compete with the multitude of genuine agencies that vitally need and deserve your support. Your BBB maintains active profiles on all such organizations. One Hot Line call can help you avoid the phony and questionable ones.

8. TRADE COMPLAINTS

We do something about unfair competition.

One of the greatest values you get as a BBB member is our ongoing vigilance to stop unfair competition. And that includes competition that is unfair to your business.

Nobody has a better handle on bad business tactics than we do. And we know how to nip them in the bud. With thousands of consumer and business contacts coming into our office every year, we're usually the first to sniff out the operation with the inferior products, the misleading ads or phony offers. We'll act promptly on tips from you, too.

Our vigilance pays off for BBB members. We move fast to expose and correct abusive business practices — the kind that can reflect harmfully on you as a competitor in the same business.

9. CONSUMER EDUCATION & INFORMATION

We help make consumers better customers for you.

As a BBB member, you'll benefit from programs which strongly support our belief that an informed consumer makes the best customer.

Your BBB offers more than 90 fact-filled booklets aimed at fostering wise consumer buying habits. These pamphlets focus on just about every business category where our expertise can be helpful to both the consumer and BBB members — from appliances and cars to home improvements and insurance.

We educate and inform the consumer in lots of other ways, too — via newspapers and radio, public speaking and seminars.

10. GUIDANCE FILE REPORTS

We keep tabs on business for you.

When you're a BBB member, you have access to information in thousands of business file reports. We help you keep abreast of the businesses you deal with . . . or compete with.

You benefit not just from our regional file system, but from the extensive up-to-date records maintained and exchanged among the 175 Better Business Bureaus across Canada and the United States.

File reports on improper corporate and business behavior are automatically exchanged among the bureaus. This data, supplemented by special bureau investigations when needed, is available to you when you want information or guidance.

11. JOIN US, YOU CAN'T AFFORD NOT TO . . .

As a Canadian business person and consumer, you're only getting one-half of the protection you're entitled to. Your 'consumer half' is given a degree of reassurance in the marketplace by a montage of government regulation and legislation. But how about your 'business half'? Consumer protection acts, whether federally or provincially inspired, are geared solely for the protection of the consumer. Your 'business half' is on its own. Or is it? Consider the Better Business Bureau:

- The Better Business Bureau is a non-profit organization supported by business, which protects the rights of businessmen AND consumers in the marketplace.

  Government, fragmented into federal and provincial spheres of interest, offers a disjointed approach to business/consumer problems as witnessed by legislation that frequently overlaps to the confusion of buyer and seller alike.

- The BBB, like all self-regulatory agencies, offers informal, practical and flexible solutions and is able to react quickly, efficiently, fairly and inexpensively to marketplace problems.

  Government, limited to the framework of legislation, is forced to react to marketplace problems with 'after-the-fact' solutions. Remember that governments can't satisfy customers by building and servicing good products. Only business can do that!

- Confidence and credibility in the BBB is demonstrated — BBB's handle more inquiries and complaints from businesses and consumers than any other organization in Canada, including government. In 1984 the 17 local Bureaus handled over 750,000 inquiries (requests for information on companies, products or service) and 30,000 complaints.

Governments do not provide 'before-the-fact' reliability information on companies, products or services.

- Most disputes between buyer and seller are the result of misunderstanding, not breaches of law. The BBB handles all complaints resulting from consumer dissatisfaction and acts as an independent third party to resolve these disputes to the satisfaction of both parties.

Government specializes in the ability to prosecute where laws have been violated. Their job is to enforce the law, not referee non-statutory disputes.

- BBB's believe there are two sides to every story. Both buyer and seller are treated equally under the BBB system . . . both have equal rights and equal responsibilities in the marketplace.

Government introduces 'consumer protection' legislation only to regulate the actions of business. Yet to be introduced anywhere is a 'Business Protection Act' that regulates the behavior of the buyer. The Better Business Bureau provides that essential balance wheel.

12. INVESTOR ALERT

A program to inform the public about the latest investment frauds was announced by the Council of Better Business Bureaus and the North American Securities Administrators Association in January of 1983. Called "Investor Alert", it forewarns investors of schemes identified by Better Business Bureaus and securities regulators as having the potential to defraud consumers in the United States, Puerto Rico, Canada and Mexico.

The following are guidelines to investors. Following these ten guidelines will go a long way in protecting oneself from unscrupulous persons who would defraud investors.

Ten Do's and Don'ts for Investors

1. Be cautious when strangers make contacts by "cold" phone calls, unannounced visits to your home or contacts from mailing lists. Phone calls from strangers offering get-rich-quick schemes can be a sign that a "boiler room" scam is on the line. Operators rent offices with impressive addresses and hire unlicensed salespeople to work banks of phones calling individuals from lists they buy. They promise fast profits and usually do not deliver.
2. Question strongly fantastic promises of extraordinary returns of 25%, 50% or even 100% on your money in short time periods. Too-good-to-be-true offers usually are just that.
3. Shy away from high pressure sales techniques requiring hurried money commitments because "tomorrow will be too late." Some fraudulent schemes have used messengers to pick up investors' cheques almost as soon as they were off the phone; this was the last contact the victims had with the companies.
4. Avoid investments where the seller has little or no written information about the company or written information about past performance. But remember, even printed materials, no matter how slickly presented, can be bogus; read all materials carefully, ask questions and check with experts.
5. Be wary of investments sold on the basis of rumors, tips or supposedly "inside information."
6. Do ask the seller to give you written information about the investment, including the prospectus or offering circular and financial statement. Read them or get help reading them before you sign a purchase order to pay for an investment. Such information is required for many types of investments, including stock offerings, limited partnerships, franchise offerings and mutual funds.
7. Do get competent help. Consult with your registered stock broker, banker, lawyer, accountant or real estate agent. Check out the company with your Better Business Bureau, securities administrator or a knowledgeable friend or family member.
8. Do contact your government agencies to find out if a company or individual is properly licensed to do business or has any history of violating the law. Failure to properly register, or a history of trouble with authorities should be a red flag to any prospective investor.
9. Do deal with established businesses whose reputations are known in the community.
10. When in doubt, wait. If something seems fishy, if your questions are not satisfactorily answered, don't commit your money. Remember, even with legitimate investments there is always the risk of losing money; there is no point in stacking the odds against you by putting your hard-earned savings in an investment that may not be on the up and up.

If you believe you have encountered an investment fraud, contact the Ontario Securities Commission — (416) 963-0223.

FOOD ADDITIVES

One hundred per cent of Canadians eat for a living but not all of us know whether the 3,000 additives used in the manufacture of foods we eat — are safe. Some food additives are natural, some are synthetic, most are safe and even beneficial, and some are dangerous perhaps toxic or carcinogenic. The long list of ingredients on the side of the cereal box has never been so confusing!

Why are so many additives being used? Mainly for flavouring and preserving. Sugar and salt are used most often, accounting for about 95 per cent of all additives in Canada by weight. Preservative additives are utilitarian and are used to keep produce fresh during the long trip from producer to consumer. Among other functions, additives are also used as emulsifiers, for health and nutrition. Most unnecessary, however, are those used for "cosmetic" esthetic effects such as Citrus Red No. 2 used to colour the skins of some Florida oranges.

Below is a list of common food additives, their uses and what else is known about them:

Flavourings

Safe

- Citric acid, sodium citrate. Used in sherbet, candies, fruit drinks, carbonated beverages. Citric acid is plentiful in citrus fruits and berries, and is an important metabolic.
- Fumaric acid. A tartness agent used in powdered drinks, pudding, gelatin desserts.
- Hydrolyzed vegetable protein. Enhances flavour in frankfurters, instant soups, sauce mixes. Vegetable protein chemically broken down into constituent amino acids.
- Lactose. Sweetener used in breakfast pastries and whipped topping mix. A mildly sweet carbohydrate from milk.
- Mannitol. Sweetener for chewing gum and low-calorie foods. It's less sweet than sugar with half the calories.
- Sorbitol. A sweetener that's also a moisturizer and thickening agent, used in dietetic drinks and foods, candy, and chewing gum. This is half as sweet as sugar, derived from fruits and berries.
- Vanillan, ethyl vanillan. Synthetic substitutes for vanilla, used in ice cream, beverages, baked goods, candy. Ethyl vanillan has more authentic flavour, but is in need of further tests.

Uncertain

- Artificial flavouring. Hundreds of chemicals used in soda, candy, breakfast cereals, etc. (i.e., "junk" foods) as imitations of natural flavours. May cause hyperactivity in some children.
- Monosodium glutamate (MSG). Flavour enhancer added to soups, sauces, poultry, cheese, seafood. This has been found to damage brain cells in young mice, and causes headaches and tightness in shoulders, neck, and arms of some people.

Unsafe

- Quinine. A flavouring used in quinine water, tonic water, and bitter lemon, it's been inadequately tested, could conceivably cause birth defects.
- Saccharin. This is the controversial successor to cyclamates, the sugar-substitute banned in 1969, as king of the non-caloric sweeteners. It's been shown to cause cancer in laboratory animals.

Food Colourings

Most artificial colourings are synthetic chemicals not found in nature that are used generally in foods of low nutritional value.

Safe

- Beta carotene. This is a colouring agent used in butter, margarine, and nondairy creamers; the body converts it to vitamin A.
- Ferrous gluconate. Another source of nutrition — in this case, iron — that's used to colour black olives.

Uncertain

- Yellow No. 6. Used in beverages, baked goods, sausage, gelatin, and candy. It appears to be safe, but can cause allergic reactions.

Unsafe

- Blue No. 1 and 2. Added to beverages, candy, and pet food, these have been very poorly tested.
- Citrus red No. 2. Used on the skins of some Florida oranges. It may cause cancer, though it doesn't soak through to the pulp of the orange.
- Green No. 3. An additive in beverages and candy that needs further testing.
- Orange B. This is used in frankfurters and causes cancer in animals.
- Red No. 3. Added to the cherries in fruit cocktail, baked goods, and candy, this may cause cancer.
- Red No. 40. Widely used in soda, candy, pastry, pet food, baked goods, sausage. It causes cancer in mice.
- Yellow No. 5. Also widely used, this poorly tested additive is in candy, gelatin desserts, and pet food. Causes allergic reactions in some people, and possibly cancer.

Preservatives and Antioxidants

Safe

- Alpha tocopherol. Both an antioxidant and a nutrient (vitamin E), this is used in vegetable oil.
- Ascorbic acid, erythorbic acid. Anti-oxidants, colour stabilizers. Ascorbic acid is also a nutrient (vitamin C), and they both prevent the formation of cancer-causing nitrosamines.
- Calcium proprionate, sodium proprionate. These preservatives are used in breads, pies, and cakes to prevent the growth of mold. Calcium proprionate supplies calcium.
- Sodium benzoate. A preservative that's been used for over 70 years in preserves, fruit juice, and carbonated beverages to stop the growth of micro-organisms.
- Sorbic acid, potassium sorbate. This additive prevents the growth of mold.

TIPS ON REAL ESTATE

BUYING A HOME

Purchasing a home may be the largest single consumer transaction which the average person enters into. We urge you to consult your lawyer if you have any questions or problems at any time in the transaction.

The following are certain problem areas or subjects of interest which should be pursued if applicable:

1. If you are purchasing a new home, you are entitled under the Builders Lien Act to hold back 15% of the purchase price for 40 days following completion of your home as a safeguard against claims for improvements to your property. Should a lien be filed against your home, you should immediately consult with your lawyer and resolve the situation as rapidly as possible. In any event, you should not release the holdback unless you are satisfied that no liens have been filed.
2. Provided that you satisfy the residence requirements, you may be eligible for a home owner's grant or home purchase assistance loan from the Provincial Government. For further information you should consult with the Lending Institution providing the first mortgage on your home purchase.
3. You should check the zoning of your home and surrounding area. Zoning by-laws limit, among other things, use of land and location of buildings. You should also ensure that the home as you see it conforms with the proper legal survey of the lands and buildings. These are both matters which your lawyer can check into.
4. If you are arranging financing through a person other than a normal Lending Institution, you should ensure that they are licensed under the Mortgage Brokers Act and have met the registration requirements. Under that Act, they should provide you with a disclosure statement as to the cost of financing and other matters.
5. If you are not sure whether you are dealing with a licensed Real Estate Agent (subject to the supervision of the Superintendent of Real Estate), ask. In most instances, the person you will be dealing with will be properly licensed and trained to assist you in your home purchase.
6. If you have an opportunity, consult with your lawyer prior to signing the Interim Agreement. After the offer to purchase has been signed, you will most likely be bound by the Agreement you have made and accordingly you should proceed with caution before signing that document.

TIPS ON VIDEO SYSTEMS

THE HOME VIDEO REVOLUTION

The past five years have seen an "electronic explosion" in products that can turn the family television into a home video system. Foremost are videocassette recorders (VCRs) and a dizzying array of accessories and options. Research the available products and services carefully before joining the video revolution, suggests the Better Business Bureau, to get better buys for years of enjoyment.

A VCR can tape programs on the air now and play them back at a later time. The machine will tape a TV program while its owner is away, asleep or watching a different channel.

Like any evolving electronics product, there are undoubtedly new refinements and features ahead for VCRs. Experts agree, however, that the basic equipment will not be changing radically.

SHOPPING THE OPTIONS

Even though new VCRs with added features keep coming onto the market, there may still be some excellent buys in older models. Visit the showroom of a reputable dealer and get a demonstration of the various options. Machines without variable speeds, slow motion, freeze-frame or fast-forward tape display are less expensive.

Prices also vary on playing time of cassettes, number of shows that can be pre-programmed to tape and the number of days in advance it can be programmed. Consumers should decide which features fit their viewing interests and their checkbooks.

There are two basic formats of videocassette recorders — Beta and VHS (video home systems). Regardless of the name brand of a machine, it works on one of these two incompatible systems. Beta cassettes will not work in a VHS machine and vice versa. If a potential buyer is planning to swap tapes with friends who own VCRs, it's necessary to purchase the same system format.

A VCR is sophisticated electronic equipment, but it's designed for easy hook-up to a television and antenna. To protect the investment, read the instruction book carefully and follow its directions for maintenance. As with an audio recorder, the recording heads of a VCR are vulnerable to dirt and wear. Products to keep the heads clean are available commercially.

Most VCRs come with a 12-month warranty on all parts and three months' coverage on labour. Get all the details of the warranty coverage before buying. Many dealers also offer service contracts to deal with difficulties after the warranty runs out.

VCRs are too complex for most consumers to repair and attempting to do so may void the warranty. Even most television repair firms do not service VCRs, though this may change in the future. A repair contract with an authorized dealer may be good insurance against problems. Make sure it is clear which services are covered and which are excluded.

TIPS ON PLUMBING

WHAT TO DO IF:

1. Leaking hot water tank:
   Turn thermostat on hot water heater to "off" position. Turn water shut-off valve to the "off" position, then call a plumber.
2. Leaking water pipe:
   Make sure you know where your main water valve is located in your home. Turn to "off" position and call a plumber.
3. Gas odour:
   Call the gas utility department immediately if the smell is strong or if you are feeling dizzy.
4. Plugged drain:
   Before calling a plumber, isolate the problem. Check downstairs to see if water is backing up from the floor drain.

USED CARS

There's nothing wrong with buying a used car. There are lots of good used cars on the market. Many people buy them to take advantage of the considerable price reduction caused by depreciation based on time, i.e. — the car is in good condition but not the current year model — and they're happy. However, the purchase of used cars is a constant source of complaint to the Better Business Bureau. No one will deny that there are some shady used car dealers around who prey on gullible buyers. Why be gullible? Most complaints fall into one or two categories as shown below.

"I CAN'T GET MY DEPOSIT BACK"

When you sign an offer to purchase and make a down payment or deposit you have in fact bought the car, provided the offer is accepted. You can't break the contract unilaterally because you "changed your mind" and neither can the dealer. The car is off the market and cannot be sold to anyone else — even if he offers a higher price. It's yours, and you'll be expected to pay for it. If you renege, don't feel that you have a right to the return of your money — you haven't.

Even if your offer is subject to "financing" and you return with the excuse that you can't arrange financing, you may find that the dealer will oblige you by arranging it for you. You've still bought the car. It's yours, and there is nowhere to take it "back" to.

The answer is simple. Don't make a down payment or deposit — call it what you will, unless you fully intend to buy the car and pay for it. Don't be conned by a salesman who tells you that the deposit is only a formality and you can change your mind later. If he makes such a statement have it included in writing on the contract. Then it becomes part of the contract and is likely enforceable.

"THE DEALER WON'T REPAIR THE CAR, AND HE WON'T TAKE IT BACK".

Why should he? It's your car, and unless there is some form of warranty you are responsible for repairs on your car. Most used cars are sold "as is" and this is made quite clear on the contract. Read the contract carefully — both sides. Nobody is trying to fool you, but many buyers fool themselves by assuming that the seller has a continuing responsibility when he hasn't. If any type of warranty is mentioned — many reputable dealers offer a warranty on used cars — make sure that the terms and effective dates are clearly shown on the contract, and that you understand them. If the salesman makes a remark such as — "If anything goes wrong, just bring it back and we'll fix it", he may be absolutely sincere. But it's your money, so have him include the statement in writing on the contract.

When buying a used car, as with many types of purchases, your best safeguard is the reputation of the seller. We all know people and firms that we trust completely and from whom we buy things at face value knowing full well that we will receive fair treatment. However, where that trust based on reputation does not exist have the car checked by an independent mechanic before you buy it. The cost involved is well worthwhile.

A used car does not have to be road-worthy or even safe to drive at the time of sale. Some people buy such vehicles for parts. The dealer must, by law, ensure that any written representation used in a consumer transaction for the purchase of such a motor vehicle contains a statement that the motor vehicle is not suitable for transportation and is sold for parts only or for the purposes other than transportation.

The dealer must also disclose, in writing, to the best of his knowledge:

1. Whether the motor vehicle has been used as a taxi, police or emergency vehicle or in organized racing.
2. Whether the motor vehicle has:
   - if new - sustained damage requiring repairs costing more than 20% of the asking price.
   - if used - sustained damages requiring repairs costing more than $1,000.
3. Whether the motor vehicle has been used as a lease or rental vehicle.
4. Whether the motor vehicle has been brought into the Province for the purpose of sale.
5. Whether the odometer accurately records the true distance travelled by the motor vehicle.

TIPS ON DRY CLEANERS

Dry cleaning is crucial to the proper care and maintenance of a wide variety of garments. Although regular maintenance of your wardrobe is no small item, your own knowledge of dry cleaning can bring you more value for your clothing dollar.

Shopping for clothes can be fun at the time, but the ones you buy may bring you frustration later if you forget maintenance costs. So the time to think about dry cleaning a garment is when you buy it.

LABELS

Look for the fibre content and the care labels required by law. They will indicate which cleaning method is most appropriate for the garment. Occasionally, garments that are both washable and dry-cleanable may have only washing instructions on the label, so remember that most washable items can be dry cleaned.

FABRICS

Technology has greatly increased the range of fabrics, textures and colours of natural and man-made fabrics. Manufacturers have improved permanent press materials, pile fabrics, bonded fabrics, double knits and fake furs so that they are durable, cleanable and present few problems to dry cleaners. Nevertheless, there is much you should know about the cleanability of fabrics.

- Many luxurious fabrics lack durability and should be purchased only if you are aware of their limitations.

AT THE CLEANER'S

When you take a garment to be cleaned, be sure to notify the cleaner of any special problem spots or potential stains. Stains caused by beverages containing sugar, for example, may not show up until the garment has been dry cleaned. Don't expect your dry cleaner to be a magician. The longer a stain is allowed to set, the harder it will be for the dry cleaner to remove it.

Care labels are intended to be permanent — don't remove them. They are helpful to you and to the cleaner as well. For example, acrylic knits are easily confused with other fibres and are likely to stretch when heated in the cleaning and finishing process; if you know an article contains this fibre, notify the cleaner so that he can take action to avoid the problem.

Knits that shrink can be stretched back to size and reshaped if you ask for this service.

Sizing, applied to fabrics during the manufacturing process to give the finished garment added shape or body, may be removed during one or more cleanings. This is also true of water resistant and spot-resistant finishes. The cleaner can restore sizing and special finishes.

Some wool and synthetic blends in suits and dresses "pill" — that is, they develop tiny woolen balls on the surface of the fabric due to rubbing. Cleaning may increase the problem but sometimes the cleaner can remove pilling.

Florescent brighteners used by garment makers to make colours brighter or whiter may become dull or yellowed after continued wearing or exposure to sunlight. Often the owner is not aware of this until a good cleaning removes the soil that may have masked the condition.

INVISIBLE ENEMIES OF YOUR DRAPERIES

Occasionally draperies or curtains, just back from the dry cleaner, are found in a torn or faded condition. When this happens the housewife is apt to conclude that the cleaner has damaged them and should either replace them or make a satisfactory adjustment. Because he frequently is not at fault, this article has been prepared to give you facts as to the principal causes of drapery failure.

Sun Damage

Constant exposure to the bright, hot rays of the sun will damage the strength of most fibers. Sometimes this happens after only a few months of use. Indirect sunlight is also damaging but not to as great a degree. Lined draperies naturally resist sun damage better than unlined. However, it is poor economy to line quality drapery fabric with an inferior lining which might deteriorate long before the drapery itself.

Effect of Sunlight on Certain Dyes

When just one colour of a printed fabric is adversely affected, it is the result of the chemical action of sunlight on certain dyestuffs. Colours most frequently affected are yellow, red and chartreuse. Buying vat or solution dyed fabrics reduces this possibility.

Sun Fading

After the soil has been removed, faded or yellow streaks are often in evidence, a condition which dry cleaning will not correct. These streaks will be more prevalent in the folds exposed to direct sunlight. Upon inspection, some evidence of fabric weakness is usually found in the faded areas. The description of a fabric as "sunfast" is generally inaccurate as none is completely resistant to sun damage.

Oxidation

Fumes from chimneys, auto exhausts, furnaces, cooking, etc. contain certain chemicals which cling to curtains and draperies. When combined with humidity and oxygen in the air a mild acid forms which contributes to the discoloration and deterioration of the fabrics.
